Auto Companies May Combine

Directors OK Uniting Studebaker, Packard

NEW YORK (AP)—Stockholders of Packard Motor Car Co. and the Studebaker Corp. will vote Aug. 17 on whether to combine the two pioneer auto companies.

A consolidation of the two remaining "independents" among the car makers has been approved by their directors. The plan calls for election of James J. Nance, 53-year-old president of Packard, as president and principal executive officer of the new company.

To Buy Studebaker

The new organization would be known as the Studebaker-Packard Corp. Technically the program proposes the purchase by Packard of Studebaker's assets.

Paul G. Hoffman, 63-year-old Studebaker board chairman, will become chairman of the new company. Harold S. Vance, 63, president of Studebaker, will head an executive operating group.

Principal headquarters of the new company will be in Detroit, home of Packard.

Submitted to stockholders will be a proposal for reclassification of Packard stock on the basis of one share for each five presently held. Then Studebaker stockholders, if they approve the proposal, would get 1 1/2 shares of the new company stock for each share of Studebaker common they now have.

The net result of the stock transaction will be that the new Studebaker-Packard organization will have about 6 1/2 million shares of stock outstanding.

2 Distinct Organizations

Two distinct and separate sales organizations will be maintained to handle Packard's medium and high-priced lines and Studebaker's low and low-medium priced cars and over-all truck line.

The projected Studebaker-Packard combination is the latest move among the smaller concerns in their fight against the almost overwhelming competition of the industry's larger concerns. Last year Kaiser-Frazer and Willys-Overland joined forces. A few weeks ago Nash-Kelvinator and Hudson combined to become American Motors Corp.

All six of the small car companies together have been able to garner less than five per cent of the auto market so far this year. General Motors, Ford and Chrysler have accounted for more than 95 per cent.

Nance was born in Ironton, Ohio, Feb. 19, 1901. He was educated at Ohio Wesleyan and Ohio State. His first post after graduating from college was with the National Cash Register Co. after he moved to General Motors' Frigidaire division.

He served on the War Production Board during World War I and joined General Electric in 1945. Within a year he became head of Hotpoint, Inc.

Chou-En-Lai Set To Leave Geneva Talks For China

Last Of Leaders Leaving; French, Reds Discuss Truce

GENEVA (AP)—Red China's Chou En-lai—last of the big-name figures still at the Far Eastern conference—prepared today to quit Geneva and leave the parley mainly to the French and the warring Indo-Chinese factions.

Reports from New Delhi said Chou will stop off in the Indian capital en route home for a huddle with Prime Minister Nehru. The Indochina peace problem was expected to loom large in their talks. Indian sources said Chou and his party were scheduled to leave Geneva Wednesday morning, arriving in New Delhi on Thursday.

Direct Talks Arranged

By the time Chou departs direct talks between the warring parties in Indochina probably will be arranged, and the major military problems of halting the conflict will be in their hands.

Another secret session of the full nine-party conference was scheduled for this afternoon. France's delegations hoped by then to have arrangements completed for the additional direct military talks, including one of French, Vietnamese and Laotian representatives, and the other of Vietnamese and Cambodians.

Cease Fire Problems

Problems of a cease-fire in Viet Nam already are being negotiated by French and Vietnamese military leaders here.

After the other top diplomats left Sunday, Chou stayed on for private talks with representatives of Laos and Cambodia. Finally, he brought them together last night with Pham Van Dong, vice premier of the Communist-led Vietnamese.

No information leaked out immediately from these latter talks, but the fact that representatives of the two kingdoms agreed to meet with the enemy was a radical departure from the early days of the conference when neither side would recognize the other.

4 Slightly Injured In Road Accident

Four persons received minor injuries when their car went off a curve on Route 45, a mile east of Lisbon, at 10:30 p.m. Monday and struck a pump house of the American Vitified Products Co.

Treated for cuts and bruises of the body by a Lisbon physician were the driver, George Carlisle of RD, Salem, and Sandra Hammit, Sandra Carlisle and Jim Bell, all of RD 3, Lisbon.

State Highway Patrolmen said Carlisle apparently fell asleep at the wheel causing his car to go off the left side of the road and strike the pump house.

The front end of the car was demolished, patrolmen said, and a corner of the small brick building was damaged. The pump house was pushed about four inches off its foundation by the impact.

In the only other highway mishap investigated by the patrol Monday and today, a car driven by Margaret Vietnam of Power Point struck a road sign on Route 45, four miles north of Lisbon.

The accident occurred at 1:05 this morning. Neither the driver nor her husband, William Vietnam, who was riding in the auto, were injured, patrolmen said.

Nab Convict In Minerva

Marietta Burglar Went To See Sister

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio - Freedom for Ernest Burge meant only cold and hunger—and a sick feeling that he never could rest.

The 27-year-old Marietta burglar was the last of four men to be captured after their escape Wednesday from Roseville branch of the Ohio Penitentiary. He was arrested last night by state highway patrolmen who said he will be returned today to Ohio Penitentiary at Columbus.

Trapped In Washroom

Trapped in a Minerva, Carroll County, gas station washroom, Burge offered no resistance. He complained only of being cold and hungry.

He was captured by Patrolman George Litt and auxiliary patrol Capt. Herbert Tinlin, both of Carrollton.

Litt entered the washroom with drawn pistol and surprised Burge washing his face. Burge was clean-shaven but wore ragged blue trousers and a red sweater.

Burge said he had spent nights sleeping in wooded areas and had

Swim Classes At Pool Full Until July 6

The June 14 - July 2 swimming classes at Centennial Park pool are now full and closed to further registrations, John Cabas, pool director, announced today.

Registration for the July 6-26 classes will be opened in about two weeks, Cabas said. Classes will be offered in July for both beginners and intermediates.

About 1,300 persons have already sought to take the free swimming and lifesaving courses. Cabas said he is "thrilled with the interest and enthusiasm shown, but to teach the students satisfactorily, the classes must be limited in size."

Cabas said the huge turnout has swamped the instructors with work and it is impossible to handle everyone at the first session who wished to register. He urges all who can to take the later course. A third set of classes will be offered in early August.

Summer Off To Hot Start

Little Relief In Prospect Today

By The Associated Press
The summer season got off to a hot start in most parts of the nation and little relief appeared in prospect today.

Temperatures were generally above seasonal levels in most areas although there was some cooling in sections of the sun-baked Midwest. Showers brought some relief from the hot and muggy weather in northern Illinois, northern Indiana and parts of Iowa and Michigan.

Flood conditions in Iowa continued critical with more than 1,000 families homeless and losses to crops and property estimated at millions of dollars.

Most of the country reported fair weather. However, there were showers and thunderstorms from northern Missouri and central Illinois northeastward into Michigan. There was drizzle along the California coast. Heavy falls were reported yesterday in a belt extending from eastern Nebraska eastward across Iowa to southern Wisconsin.

Temperatures of 100 and higher were general in the interior of California and the southwest desert region yesterday. The day's top reading was 116 at Needles, Calif. Temperatures were in the high 80s and 90s in most of the southern and eastern half of the country except in the northern border states.

Both Sides Claim Victory In 4-Day Anti-Red Revolt

Rebels Say 2 Pilots Flee Country, Rail Bridges Destroyed

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—Government and rebel forces trumpeted rival victory claims today in the four-day-old battle for Guatemala. Both sides appeared to be mobilizing for a major fight over the key rail town of Zacapa.

President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman's Communist-backed government claimed a success for its armed forces at Gualan, east of Zacapa about 20 miles inside Guatemala. It said the rebels were run out of town after a brief skirmish, but mentioned no casualties.

The "liberation radio" speaking for the anti-Red invasion forces of exiled Guatemalan leader Col. Carlos Castillo Armas claimed the rebels held 25 towns in Guatemala, Arbenz troops missing.

Associated Press dispatches from Guatemala city said Arbenz' troops were massing in the area of Zacapa, a city of some 8,000 on the main rail line between the capital and the Caribbean port of Puerto Barrios.

A rebel flier interviewed near the Honduran border said Castillo Armas men also were moving by truck towards Zacapa. He said the invaders headed for the rail center after seizing the cathedral town of Esquipulas in a five-hour battle. Three Guatemalan soldiers were reported killed in that engagement.

An informed source at Tegucigalpa indicated a fight for Zacapa was shaping up. He predicted the rebels would abandon their guerrilla tactics within the next 24 hours and seek a pitched battle with Arbenz' army.

The source also said: 1. At least two Guatemalan pilots have fled their country in training planes since the invasion began Friday.

2. Two railroad bridges at Gualan had been destroyed; sabotage along the line between Gualan and Puerto Barrios has increased; a train which left Guatemala City for the port of San Jose has "simply disappeared."

3. The rebels have taken over the rail town of Morales, some 50 miles from Puerto Barrios.

4. A rebel plane machine-gunned and dropped grenades on San Jose. The rebels also announced that their planes had bombed Coban, a garrison town in central Guatemala, from a base inside the country.

Castillo Armas has proclaimed his command the only legal government of Guatemala and called on his countrymen to disavow the Arbenz regime.

Castillo Armas urged foreign countries not to recognize envoys of the Arbenz regime and said he planned to send his own representatives abroad as soon as details could be worked out.

A Cuban Cabinet member, Ernesto de la Fe, promptly urged rebel regime. U. S. Sen. Homer E. Ferguson (R-Mich.) said in Philadelphia last night that if the rebel forces win, he would favor his government to recognize the U. S. recognition of the new government.

Tunisia Threatens France With Another Indochina

EDITOR'S NOTE—Tunisia, the size of Louisiana, is halfway between Gibraltar and Suez. A World War II battleground, today it is the scene of terrorism that threatens France with another problem on the scale of Indochina. William L. Ryan tells the story in this second of his articles on the shaky French empire.)

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP FOREIGN News Analyst

TUNIS (AP)—A five-year-old boy was murdered in cold blood, and suddenly Frenchmen wonder if they were going to have another Indochina on their hands.

The boy was the son of a Tunisian farmer who had been a member of a new "Army of Liberation" but had quit. The child was slain out of vengeance and as a warning to others.

In May this "Army of Liberation," known simply as the Fellaghas and once considered only bandits, started a hit-and-run warfare against the French with naked terror as a weapon. The terror is still going on.

I have seen Indochina and I have seen nationalist movements in action in many parts of the world. In North Africa there are all the elements for a future bloody hide-and-seek war. The nervous peace enforced by guns in Tunis is broken frequently by violent death which stalks Frenchman and Moslem alike in the dark.

The French say the Fellaghas number only about 80 but admit they now are organized. Tunisians say the Fellaghas number many more, an organized force which can march miles on almost no food under harsh conditions in a type of guerilla warfare. To match that the French would need equally hardy native troops. Raising such a force is difficult—fear of reprisals against families is fresh in the minds of all Tunisians.

Fellagha reinforcements are believed to train in a school near Tripoli, in Libya. This report came from many sources, both French and Tunisian. They agree that the Fellaghas are being trained with modern weapons, although they use leftover guns of World War I. The Fellaghas are often uniformed and often wear insignia of rank.

Some belief is expressed that North African soldiers captured in Indochina by the Communists have received "political re-education," and been sent to Tunisia to train and possibly even lead Fellaghas. French sources say bodies of North African veterans have turned up among the Fellagha dead in Tunisian skirmishes.

Other sources believe ex-Nazis from Egypt are active. Both Tunisian and French sources agree that the Fellagha Army is paid regular Army pay and is trained by non-Arabs. Arms, say both French and Tunisians, come from Libya. "Commandos" trained in the school near Tripoli, say these informants, join the Fellaghas across the mountain defiles where once American GIs and British Tommies fought Rommel's forces. Until recently the Fellaghas attacked in small groups of 20, slinking away into the night. Now the attacks are growing in strength. A pitched battle with a force of about 10 was reported recently.

The Fellaghas live off the land, forcing themselves on colonists who are obliged to shelter them or suffer death—as some have.

Many of the things the Fellaghas do are not characteristic of Moslems—wanton killing for political vengeance and the suicide of men facing capture, for instance. But the French say inspiration has been given the Fellaghas from Moslem Cairo and the Arab League, whose stated ambition is to extend Islam's influence from Pacific to Atlantic. Radio Cairo has kept up insistent propaganda against the French in North Africa. It hailed French defeats in Indochina as victories for "liberation forces."

The French also suspect that there may be help from Communists, but they still cannot lay their hands on conclusive evidence. Nor is there evidence to link the F. I. s. Nationalists. Habib Bourguiba, Nationalist leader who is exiled on an island off Brittany, disclaims any connection. That would mean the situation was out of the hands of the nominal leaders. It would mean the French, in any negotiations with the Nationalists, have no guarantee such negotiations can lead to peace.

Fellagha terror erupted suddenly in May after a six-month period without a single major incident in Tunisia. The French at once poured troops into the area. They stationed foreign legionnaires at big farms to protect farmers and deny supplies to the Fellaghas.

'GUESS I'M JUST LUCKY'—F. L. Morgan, 39-year-old Lockheed Aircraft flight line mechanic, is comforted by his wife at the Kennebec Hospital at Marietta, Ga., a few hours after he was sucked into a jet engine of a B-47 Stratojet bomber. Morgan, who went in head first to his waist, considers himself lucky to be alive. Not many people get sucked into a jet engine and live to tell about it. He suffered severe bruises of the arm and head.

The Fellagha leader is identified as Sassi Lassoud. This name might indicate he is Sudanese, but the French say he is Tunisian. His name was signed to notes pinned to bodies of recent terror victims, warning of assassination to come for certain Tunisian government figures.

To add fuel to a dangerous fire, French farmers of southern and western Tunisia are talking about organizing vigilantes to fight the Fellaghas. That could build into a pattern of terror and counter-terror such as has tormented Britain's Kenya Colony for several years. But in Tunisia the native force is armed with machineguns, automatic weapons and small arms.

Meanwhile Nationalists are becoming more and more impatient with French promises and French unwillingness to accord anything more than token autonomy. The French are caught between two fires.

French colonists are angry at the attempts of Pierre Voizard, the resident general, to pacify Tunisians with "reforms." Many Tunisians are bitter too. They say the reforms are no reforms at all.

Smoking Tied In With Heart Attack, Cancer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Cigarette smokers die sooner than other men aged 50-60-70 and they die mainly from heart attacks and cancer, an American Cancer Society (ACS) study reported Monday.

It finds an effect from cigarette on cancers other than lung cancer. Numerically, the biggest effect could be in heart disease, since far more people die of coronary disease than die of lung cancer.

Just what the effect of cigarette is upon men under 50 or upon women can only be guessed at until more studies are made, the authors of the report said. 3

The report is based upon interviews in 1952 with 187,766 healthy men aged 50 to 70 about their smoking habits, and a checkup upon causes of death of 4,854 of them who died within 20 months. It shows the death rate—from all causes—among the cigarette smokers to be up to 75 per cent higher than among the men who never smoked.

For men who smoked a pack-a-day of cigarettes or more, the death rate from heart disease and cancer is at certain ages double that of non-smokers.

The risk seems to rise the more cigarettes are smoked.

Smoking only a pipe or only cigars doesn't seem to affect the death rates except possible for cancer in general, but this possibility needs further study, the report said.

Cigarettes have been blamed by some scientific reports as a cause of an alarming rise in lung cancer, especially in men.

Today's report is the first disclosure of any findings from a long-awaited ACS study which set out to learn about any effects from smoking on cancer or other diseases.

It says it finds evidence cigarettes could have a cause-and-effect relationship with heart attack and cancer.

Pair Of Thieves Try To Use 'Miracle'

ANGRI, Italy (AP)—Pilgrims crowded into Salvatore Ferraioli's kitchen yesterday to see a picture of the Madonna of Syracuse to which miracles had been attributed.

Antonio Tortora led in his friend, 26-year-old Giacinto Gallo, saying Gallo was semiparalyzed and a mute. Gallo stood rigid for an hour, then raised his arms and shouted some words.

A special committee investigating the picture's purported powers insisted Gallo accompany them to a doctor for proof of his "cure." The doctor's verdict: Gallo hadn't been either deaf or paralyzed to begin with.

Angry villagers set upon Gallo and his friend. Police rescued them and led them off to jail. Officials said they confessed they had hoped to take the miracle cure, then pick the excited pilgrims' pockets.

Thief Swipes Suitcase, To Get A Surprise

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—Someone sneaked a suitcase from a car in front of a hotel here yesterday, probably thinking it was full of suits, but what he actually snatched was a snake. And what a snake!

Harry Albacker, a traveling entertainer, said the suitcase contained a 60-pound, 10-foot python he uses in his act. He said he had just fed the snake and that it probably won't move until it gets hungry in a couple of days.

He said he would remain in Hagerstown awhile in hopes his snake turns up.

Sen. Smith Wins Easily In Maine

GOP Renominates Its Woman Senator

PORTLAND, MAINE (AP)—Maine Republicans overwhelmingly renominated Sen. Margaret Chase Smith in yesterday's primary and cut down in crushing defeat the challenger she said Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) apparently put up against her.

Throughout a lackluster campaign and on through the balloting itself the only question was how big the landslide would be.

And in the end it was a crunching victory, by a margin of more than 5-1, over political novice Robert L. Jones, McCarthy's 34-year-old apostle.

GOP nomination normally assures victory in Maine.

An early complete count, from 613 of Maine's 626 precincts, showed 96,159 votes for Mrs. Smith, 19,203 for Jones.

While the balloting bestowed a heavy vote of confidence on the silver-haired, 56-year-old Mrs. Smith and the record on which she ran, the Jones defeat scarcely could be translated into one for McCarthy too.

The Wisconsin senator never was a solid issue during the campaign and neither contestant contended he was.

Furthermore, it wasn't until the eve of the primary that Sen. Smith came out and said that it appeared McCarthy deliberately planted Jones in the race against her. That was at a time when she herself said the people already had made up their minds how to vote and "last-minute appeals and charges" could have little effect on them.

The Smith-Jones battle was the only statewide contest in the primary.

Tom Little, who is in charge of the free swimming program for the children of the local school district, reported that 95 were on hand for the first swimming session last Thursday, which was cut short because of the rain and the children were returned home ahead of schedule. Sixty-four of these children reported for the early bus which takes the beginners.

Mr. Little stated that about one-third of the children on the early bus should have waited for the later one which goes to the pool for the free swimming sessions. Mr. Little emphasized that the swimming lessons were only for children who could not swim at all. He asked the cooperation of parents in seeing that children who can swim, wait for the second bus. Facilities at the pool limit the swimming instructions to beginners only.

Truman Recovering, But Still Serious

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Harry S. Truman's physician said last night the former President is getting along as well as expected after his emergency operation but added "It's a pretty rough situation."

Dr. Wallace Graham said he had not allowed his patient to walk yet and he was not yet out of danger. The 70-year-old Truman, however, was talking about getting out of the hospital.

He underwent the operation for removal of his gall bladder and appendix Sunday.

He is expected to remain in Research Hospital for at least 10 days.

Mrs. Truman, who spent much of her visit to her husband's room reading the many telegrams he's received, said, "I think he is progressing. He was comfortable and he wasn't bothered by the heat today."

President Monroe's Doctrine

Whether or not Communist infiltration of a Central American government is in technical violation of the Monroe Doctrine is a question for hair-splitters.

The compelling fact in Guatemala is that there has been a violation of the Monroe Doctrine in spirit. The technicality is of no importance.

The Monroe Doctrine, itself, has no status in international law. It is now, as it was in 1823, a declaration of United States policy. It is not a treaty or an agreement.

But since 1823—and as recently as last March in the Caracas conference—the other American states have adopted the essence of the policy first stated by President Monroe.

They have given notice that interference by Old World politicians in the governments of the New World will be regarded as an unfriendly act. They have been in general agreement that the New World has a clear right to be free in perpetuity of the feuds of Old World societies and groups.

In the Caracas conference last spring, an anti-Communist resolution was adopted by a 17 to 1 vote. Guatemala, dominated by Communists, abstained. So did Argentina and Mexico. The resolution's main provision was:

"Domination or control of the political institutions of any American state by the international Communist movement (constitutes) a threat to the sovereignty and political independence of the American states (which would) call for consultation and appropriate action in accordance with existing treaties."

The Rio pact of 1947 had provided that "every act of aggression by a state against the territorial integrity or the inviolability of the territory or against the sovereignty or political independence of an American state shall be considered an act of aggression against the other American states."

The question will be asked why the United States is interested in what happens in Guatemala. The reason is the same as the interest felt by all other governments in North and South America. In 1823, notice was given that the New World was closed to Old World plots and schemings. The idea has taken root.

The international Communist conspiracy would like to get a foothold in the Americas. Americans must not let that happen if they can help it.

Communists have gained their foothold; they are in control of Guatemala. Their security is being challenged by a "revolution."

Demonstration In Alabama

The murder of Albert L. Patterson, Democratic nominee for attorney general of Alabama, occurred under circumstances leaving little room for doubt that he was the victim of organized vice in his state.

He had said as recently as last Thursday before a church audience that he had only a "hundred to one chance of ever being sworn in as attorney general."

The odds against him had been made long because he had won the Democratic nomination, the equivalent of winning the election in Alabama, on an anti-vice crusade. He knew his life was in danger.

Here is one more demonstration of the problem created and aggravated by organized vice. It is not a problem of morality, although morality is violated to some degree by all of the forms of organized vice.

It is essentially a problem of balance in government.

When the easy returns from organized vice fall into the unscrupulous hands of the kind of people capable of exploiting the weaknesses of their fellow men, there is always an attempt sooner or later to wield improper influence over public officials. The vice lords try to run things to suit themselves.

In Alabama, a public official could not be handled by commonplace methods of corruption so he was disposed of by gunfire.

Four years ago, the Senate Crime Committee held hearings in many places in the United States. The hearings revealed that organized vice and crime had become a vast interstate business, heavily financed and able to buy off and intimidate public officials on a grand scale.

Americans were shocked. In dozens of communities, organized vice was put on the defensive for the first time in a generation. Perhaps it was put on the defensive in Alabama, too. If so, it didn't stay there.

The kind of people capable of exploiting the weaknesses of their fellow men for gain and capable of using the gain to corrupt public officials never stay on the defensive any longer than is required for he public to grow indifferent again.

A lot of drastic steps will be taken this summer—on dance floors!

Campers should remember that this country of ours can always get out of the woods without the help of forest fires.

Oppenheimer Decision

By DAVID LAWRENCE

All Evidence Must Be Assayed For Fair Verdict

Was Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer an unconscious instrument of Soviet policy or an actual espionage agent or a loyal but misguided scientist?

These questions, which were raised concretely in a letter from William Liscum Borden to J. Edgar Hoover, on November 7, 1953, started the re-examination of all records and files by the Atomic Energy Commission in order to determine if the noted scientist could be given clearance or should be denied it as a "security risk."

From January 1949, until June 1, 1953, Borden, now an assistant to the manager of the Westinghouse Company's atomic power division, was the executive director of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy. A man with a brilliant war service as an Army pilot and a fine record as a law school graduate, Borden had the complete confidence of Sen. McMahon, who was chairman of the joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy.

After many years of reading of the classified information and evidence to which he had had access while in the government, Borden endeavored to assess the degree of likelihood as to "whether he (Oppenheimer) became an actual espionage agent and policy instrument of the Soviets."

Borden's conclusion was this:

"My opinion is that, more probably than not, the worst is in fact the truth."

Since that letter was written a special board headed by Dr. Gordon Gray, now president of the University of North Carolina and formerly secretary of the Army in the Truman administration, has ruled unanimously on their findings of fact, but by a 2 to 1 vote has denied Dr. Oppenheimer security clearance.

The dissenting member, Dr. Ward V. Evans, a chemistry professor, thought that Dr. Oppenheimer had learned a great deal since his earlier indiscretions and wouldn't make the same mistakes again and should be given clearance.

Now it is up to the Atomic Energy Commission of five members to review the recommendations of the special board.

Judging by the sentiment in Congress, if the Atomic Energy Commission does grant security clearance, the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy will hold extensive hearings which so far as drama and public interest are concerned could conceivably overshadow the recent McCarthy hearings.

This correspondent has just finished an examination of the 992 printed pages of the official transcript—approximately 400,000 words—of the testimony before the special board which heard all the evidence from the witnesses on both sides.

This writer's conclusion is that the most charitable interpretation which can be placed on the strange and complicated behavior of Dr. Oppenheimer as revealed in the evidence is that he was never intentionally disloyal but that his actions, as disclosed in the official record, permit the inference by the board that he might unwittingly become involved in standards of judgment when disloyalty because of his peculiar there is a conflict between loyalty to a friend and loyalty to his own government.

The SPECIAL BOARD'S verdict was that Dr. Oppenheimer was and is loyal but constitutes a "security risk" under existing regulations.

Thus Dr. Oppenheimer admits now that he lied to a security officer of the United States Army in August and September 1943, and also refused to give him information about an attempt to espionage in this country by the Russian government because he didn't think the plot had succeeded, and because it involved a close friend whom he wanted to protect.

Dr. Oppenheimer failed to report the facts promptly to his government, and even five months later did not tell the whole story, despite the urgent pleas of the security officers of the Army. The scientist two months later, under pressure, finally disclosed what he knew to Gen. Groves, head of the atomic bomb project. Then Dr. Oppenheimer confessed that what he previously had told the security officer was a lie. Lawyers say this constitutes a felony under federal law.

Dr. Oppenheimer claims now he was an "idiot" to do what he did, and it is plain that the security clearance he got in 1947 in spite of all this derogatory information was given largely for expediency reasons, that is, Gen. Groves felt he was so valuable to the atomic energy project he should be given the benefit of the doubt.

Inside the government it was conceded at the time that Dr. Oppenheimer couldn't have gotten clearance on a military security basis alone and that the FBI director also had "reservations."

ANOTHER STRANGE development

occurred in June, 1949, when after Dr. Oppenheimer had testified under oath in secret session before the House un-American Activities Committee that a certain scientist was a Communist, he wrote a letter for publication to a newspaper flatly contradicting his own sworn testimony, and later justified what he did on the ground that he didn't want to hurt the scientist's chances of keeping his job at the university where he worked, and besides the congressional testimony hadn't been released to the public anyhow.

Dr. Oppenheimer has admitted contributing many thousands of dollars to Communist front organizations and causes prior to 1942, and that he associated with several Communists and fellow travelers while engaged in war work.

The record shows that as late as 1953 he had not terminated his meetings with a man whom he knew had been accused of being a Communist and who had been involved in the original attempt at espionage in 1943.

In a nutshell, Dr. Oppenheimer felt he himself was a better judge than anyone else whether any security was being compromised by his acts. Some of his fellow scientists, who testified to their belief in his loyalty and who said they do not consider him a security risk, stated that they thought his standards had been wrong and that they wouldn't apply to them in the way he did.

THE OFFICIAL RECORD

contains many references to what is called a "pattern of conduct" which, apart from the indiscretions mentioned above, caused Maj. Gen. Roscoe Wilson—deputy to Gen. Groves, and later to Gen. Nichols of the Atomic Energy Commission—to be so disturbed about what he called Dr. Oppenheimer's "pattern of action" that early in 1951 he went to the director of intelligence of the Air Force saying he was worried about it.

This referred not only to alleged retardation in the development of the H-bomb by Dr. Oppenheimer but to his opposition to nuclear powered airplanes, and a course of action on other military matters that were deemed by Gen. Wilson to be detrimental to the offensive power of the strategic air command of the United States.

The Oppenheimer case can never be decided fairly on the basis of one incident or on what admirers or critics testify as to their personal impression of his loyalty or security from their own acquaintance or observation, but only on the basis of all the available evidence, direct and circumstantial, specific acts as well as views—the whole 400,000 words—which has to be examined before reaching a final verdict.

Uncle Et Says

Doc Smithers says he hears he's getting a reputation of being a grouch, but it's only with people who have told him the same stories three or four times and have been left talking to themselves.

There's nothing so deflating says Judge Boles, as to be grand marshal of a big parade one day and then walk down Main Street a couple of days later without being recognized by anybody.

Plez Thurman says the sight of the television antennas all over town would surely cause old-fashioned, lightning rod salesmen of years ago to turn over in their graves if they knew about them.

Thoughts For Today

The strongest love which the human heart has ever felt has been that for its Heavenly Parent. Was it not then constituted for this love? — W. E. Channing.

Shucks, You're In Good Hands—Why Get Hysterical?

Role Of The Informer

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The McCarthy-Stevens hearings raised the issue of the role of the informer in the American government. If the Congress wishes that there should be no informers inside the administration, it should not have appointed any committee to investigate the administration.

A congressional committee cannot know where to look unless somehow it is brought to the committee's attention that something has gone wrong. Someone must tell.

CONGRESS HAS two functions in this connection: 1. It must investigate all government departments not only to obtain data for future legislation but also to determine what appropriations are to be allotted to the various departments; 2. It acts as a watchdog agency to see how the laws Congress passes are enforced.

Army Counsel Joseph Welch seemed at no time to understand why the congressional investigative committee exists. Perhaps he did not want to know. Perhaps he had admitted, even to himself, that such committees exist to investigate, he could not have tried his case.

It was startling to listen to weeks of this hearing and to note how little a distinguished Boston lawyer knows about the workings of Congress.

When he made his "sic - em Stevens" appeal and various others that as soon as anyone knew of a subversive in the Army, he should go to the Pentagon and shout, "I know of a subversive," he could not have grasped that the business of a congressional investigative committee was not to go to the Pentagon but to start an investigation. The essence of such an investigation would have to be to discover why the officials charged with the responsibility did not act themselves.

I COULD NOT understand, during the weeks that this subject was moving back and forth, why this was not brought out clearly. It exists to obtain information. Mr. Welch and particularly his counsel Mr. St. Clair acted as though a congressional committee did not exist under the law.

As the Communist conspiracy developed in the United States after 1934 when the Harold Ware cell was organized to infiltrate the government of the United States, anti-Communists became active, observing, scrutinizing and evaluating the work of the Communists in government.

Many of these voluntary efforts were fruitless. Some were ridiculous to the point of accepting every rumor as a fact; some took on a vigilante characteristic. Some such voluntary activities were of the greatest value.

Out of it, as the years passed, men and women appeared inside our government who came to be known as the "pro - American underground." There is no organization by that name; there are no groups that meet in secret. There is no conspiracy but that such men and women exist is clear from the fact that Whittaker Chambers found his way to A.A. Berle Jr. when Berle was in the State Department to tell him about Alger Hiss nearly 10 years before Hiss was tried; somebody knocked on Rep. Karl Mundt's door to tell him about Alger Hiss; somebody tipped Bert Andrews who took Rep. Richard Nixon to the Maryland farm where he found "The Pumpkin Papers."

SOMEBODY TIPPED Sen. Joe McCarthy about the Fort Monmouth situation. A number of men in the Voice of America tipped David Schine of Communist activity in what organization. Somebody is always calling attention to high crimes and misdemeanors in government.

It is not surprising that this should be so, nor does it point to a disunited government employee. There are persons in every branch of government who use private judgment when they believe that the country is being harmed and that officials have a way of covering up a bad situation. We are a free people and no one loses his citizenship by taking a government job.

The question rightfully arises whether such a person should not first go to the Department of Justice. Perhaps he should. But many do not trust the Department of Justice, while many do go with their information to a chairman of a congressional committee.

This is certain: As long as there is corruption or infiltration, an agency must exist to investigate. Perhaps it is to the advantage of the country that several agencies should exist.

They Keep Their Shirts On

By TRUMAN TWILL

The undress parade of adult men has gone so much further than I realize that my observations in this field of social research leave me astonished.

It is one thing for the female figure to be exposed to the great outdoors in the summertime. That is something everybody understands. There is a reason for it. But will someone explain to an old-fashioned boy where the idea came from that men also should make a practice of appearing virtually in the all-together?

In the kind of society whose folkways rubbed off on me, a man did not remove his shirt in the presence of others unless he was a wrestler, a boxer, a life guard, a strong man, a flying trapeze artist, or a steelworker in the hot strip.

Even in theatrical occupations it was considered good taste to drape a male performer in either full or half tights, the same being a suit of tailor-built underwear suitably tinted and cunningly fashioned to take up the slack in all the old familiar places.

There were men who cried "Fie!" on circumspection and sat about in their undershirts when the weather turned warm. But they were the kind of men who sent wizened little children rushing to the corner saloon for buckets of suds and masticated massive wads of leaf tobacco by continuous rumination. They were free thinkers.

Most men felt constrained to keep on not only their shirts but their coats. Even when working around their own houses and yards they clung to modesty and were still clinging long after modesty had been shed with their sateen bloomers by members of the opposite sex.

But now, all of a sudden, men are leaping about all over the place in costumes so scanty you have your bifocals to be sure. On a recent Saturday afternoon, in the process of fleeing to RFD via Suburbia, I saw a dozen men dress so scantily they would have been thrown into the paddy wagon and hauled to the cooler a few years ago.

These near nudists were washing windows, cutting grass, walking dogs and painting houses. A few were lying in the sun, taking the actinic rays. Some were reclining in the shade. All were seemingly indifferent to the fact they were wounding the tender sensibilities of passersby who may have been no more accustomed than I was to the sight of their near nakedness.

People with more experience in these matters than I have tell me I am out of touch; that this is the way things are being done now in the better circles. A hoity - toity magazine that comes to my house is full of pictures of men's knobby knees and hirsute chests being flaunted shamelessly, for a fact.

Perhaps there is no call for me to wonder whether. Perhaps a fellow should sit back and hope for the best, the way everybody is doing, about thermonuclear explosions.

There is more involved here than comfort or fashion. Modesty was left in the sole charge of the male gender after the opposite sex made its mad dash into emancipation, leaving its ankle - length bathing suits, multiple petticoats, flannel-ettes and so on scattered along the primrose path.

Men were loyal to their trust for many years. Now they have broken barriers, too. If you don't believe they're on the loose, any ten blocks of Suburbia on a Saturday afternoon will convince you. It will leave you goggle - eyed if you, too, remember when the man of the house was expected to roll down for appearance in his own front porch on a warm evening in mid-summer.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

What, No Encore?

Back to the "How to Bake a Cake." . . . Back to shows with no station break! Back to the Westerns and old "Two Gun" . . . Back to the style shows with babes galore! To Maggi and Nancy and Garry Moore! To wild whodunits and screams and crime! . . . Washington's done with the TV time! A cheer for cooking instructions all . . . To beauty talks and the cry, "Play ball!" . . . Hooray for the quizzes and jackpots, too! . . . Those Washington players at last are through!

Cry of the teenagers as they watched the Pentagon-McCarthy proceedings: "And they call us CRAZY MIXED-UP KIDS!"

Frank Carr, so long silent, was easily the most appealing witness in the hearings and the only one with a sense of humor. . . He got the big laughs of the sessions when Sen. Dirksen, drawing a parallel with the Schine case, asked, "While you have only known Counsel St. Claire 32 days, wouldn't you say he might qualify for an Army commission?" and got the reply, "I'd say so on the basis of today's work alone."

He got another when McClellan asked, "Don't you think the Democrats get smeared down here, too?" replied, "I'd say that anybody who comes to Washington has a good chance."

Sure-fire signal for ditty work at the crosswords comes from a senator begins his quiz with "Now in ALL FAIRNESS." . . . If the Potomac TV show is ever released as a movie, it will kill the old-time Chaplin comedies. . . Sen. Dirksen, it seems to us, brought out a highly interesting point when he asked how can a government which offers a cash award to any citizen who will squeal on another in tax matters get so outraged over whether a Senate committee can accept information on treason? . . . Nothing in the much-discussed "secret document" possessed by Joe McCarthy contained anything that could have hurt the security of the country. . . Our belief, with the Washington TV hearings over, is that the general public got a pretty terrible impression of senators in action and retains the feeling that, with few exceptions, they seemed a little on the dimwit side and gaseous beyond the call of duty.

The TV audience would, in our opinion, hand down the following verdicts:

1. Any competent group of citizens could have brought out in one week all that the senators brought out in almost two months;
2. Baby Snooks never asked sillier questions than some of those asked by Army counsel;
3. Sen. Symington never succeeded in making it clear why he should sit as a judge in a case involving another senator against whom he had expressed extreme disapproval, if not contempt;
4. Nothing was funnier during the entire show than Counsel Welch asking why a committee trying to fight the tough commie threat didn't just go to the Pentagon, and cry to the first receptionist, "I've got hot dope on subversives?"
5. Sen. Mundt got gifts of a pipe and cigars but what he needs more than anything else, judging from his idea of a 5-minute recess, is a good WATCH.

This column's belief is that the McCarthy side won by a country mile and that John Q. Citizen would sum it up in these words: "Joe lacks polish, pulls boners and is no matinee idol, but the commies will never get driven out by kid-glove boys. If I was in Indian country with scalp parties in the brush, I'd rather have Joe on watch outside my tent than Joe Welch, Attorney St. Claire or Bob Stevens."

Its program includes organizations for all ages. The Corps Cadets is made up of boys and girls, aged 12 to 18, and includes a Bible and leadership training course, she stated.

A band is being reorganized for the Salem citadel and already 17 boys and five girls revealed interest in the musical project. "Our motto for this program is 'teach them to blow a horn and they won't blow a safe,'" the captain said.

The program for the Junior Legion, ages six to 11, and the Torchbearers, ages 12 to 25, includes recreation, education, worship and service to community projects. While the Army officers work largely with young people, parents are also visited and given counsel, she declared.

Women of the Army, enrolled in the Home League, meet weekly. Their activities include features on the rearing of children, sewing for the needy, overseas relief, and projects for service men and women.

"Our local contingent has raised over $1,000 to meet the needs of our work in the 97 countries and colonies of the world in which we operate," Miss Brown said.

Eighty youngsters from this area participated in the Army's camp program last year, she said.

Dr. George Harris Ruggy Weds Former Canton Girl

A former Salem man, Dr. George Harris Ruggy, took a former Canton girl, Dr. LeMoyné Ione Unkefer, as his bride, in an impressive ceremony which took place Friday at 2:30 p.m. in the presence of friends and relatives in the sanctuary of the Indianapolis Presbyterian Church in Columbus.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert H. Unkefer of Canton, and the bridegroom, the son of Mrs. Rex W. Ruggy of E. 3rd St., are physicians. She was graduated from Kent State University and was granted a doctor of medicine degree this month from Ohio State University School of Medicine.

Dr. Ruggy is a graduate of the College of Wooster and following his graduate work at Ohio State, completed his medical education at the University of Chicago. He was junior dean of the College of Medicine during the past nine years and is now associate professor of physiological chemistry and medicine.

The couple are honeymooning in Michigan, and after Oct. 1, will be practicing physicians at Grand Rapids, Mich. For their trip, the bride traveled in a blue linen suit, complemented by a white orchid corsage.

Rev. John W. Constable, pastor of the Missouri Lutheran University Student Center in Columbus, performed the ceremony during which the couple exchanged vows and rings. Lawrence Frank presided at the organ console.

Gowned in white Chantilly lace and tulle over satin, the bride went to the altar escorted by her father. The illusion yoke on the basque bodice was outlined with stand-up ruffles of pleated nylon tulle and scalloped lace. The long sleeves were tapered over the hands.

The hooped bouffant tulle skirt was distinctively designed with wide panels of lace at the front, and the lace motif continued into a chapel train. Held in place by a crown of seed pearls was the bride's fingertip veil of imported illusion and Chantilly lace. Stephanie framed the white orchid bride carried.

Mrs. John Constable of Columbus was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Edward Houwart of Macedonia, O., and Miss Lois Spaeth of Joliet, Ill. All three appeared in powder blue lace gowns, over taffeta. The strapless bodices were designed with sweetheart necklines, and each wore a lace jacket.

Mrs. Constable carried a nosegay of yellow mums, while the bridesmaids' flowers were pink. Large picture hats to match their gowns completed their ensembles.

Harold P. Fields of East Lansing, Mich., was best man for Dr. Ruggy. All four ushers are doctors — Dr. Louis Haley of Dayton, Dr. Fred Kruger, Dr. Robert Whetstone, and Dr. Bernard Marks of Columbus.

Both mothers of the couple wore corsages of white roses. Mrs. Unkefer appeared in a white and navy print and Mrs. Ruggy in navy with white accessories.

From the church the wedding party and guests went to the Faculty Club on the Ohio State University campus where the reception took place. Present to congratulate the newlyweds were 125 people from Salem, Canton, Cleveland, Long Beach, Calif., Columbus, Ga. and New Castle, Pa.

Following the supper, a social evening was enjoyed.

The next regular meeting of the court will be Friday, Sept. 3, in the Masonic Temple.

Mullins, Demings, Salem Tool Win City Softball Contests

Extra-Base Hits Feature Games

Tool-Bliss Game Scheduled Tonight

Extra base hits were a dime a dozen at Kelley Field last night as the players in the city softball league gave the hapless pitchers a tough time.

Mullins, with three home runs, blasted Bliss, which had two round-trippers, 7-4; Demings dumped the Old Timers 8-4 and Salem Tool trampled Leetonia 15-6.

One of the season's best tilts is lined for tonight at 9 when undefeated Salem Tool takes on third place Bliss. The two teams were last year's league playoff champions.

Both teams played last night but withheld their best hurlers for tonight's fray. Dick Jackson will toe the slab this evening for Bliss and "Blazing Bill" Herman, unbeaten in six starts this season and the loop's top pitcher, will get the nod for Tool.

Mullins 7, Bliss 4

A total of five home runs was slammed out in this game, accounting for eight of the 11 runs scored in the contest.

Mullins scored three runs in the first, two on Gene Dean's homer. Beeson connected in the fifth with one on and Wukotich lashed out a home run in the sixth, driving in a teammate ahead of him to round out Mullins' scoring.

Wink Miller and Wally Wood each had home runs for the losers.

Veteran chucker Johnny McQuiston received credit for the win. Frank Lanney hurled for Bliss.

Salem Tool 15, Leetonia 6

In a game featured by 21 runs on 21 hits, Tool blasted an eight-man Leetonia squad for its eighth straight win without a loss. Five of Tool's 14 hits were for extra bases.

Jerry Ball led the attack with four hits, including two doubles and a triple, while Jack Gottschling, the league's second leading hitter; Tom Cope, John Baker and Leo Kline each had two hits. Donnie Bell, who also had two hits, was the loser.

Demings 8, Old Timers 4

Demings, behind three runs, scored seven runs in the last two innings to bag the win. Hank Miller, Old Timers' pitcher, held a 4-1 bulge at the end of four innings, but Demings got three runs in the fifth to tie and four more in the sixth to win.

Dick Wyss paced the batting with a single, double and triple. Al Zoccolo had two hits for the winners and Miller's round tripper featured for the Old Timers. Winning pitcher Dave Ehrhart retired the last 12 men in order and recorded seven strikeouts.

Baltimore Fans Boo Losing Team Steadily

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore fans have gotten around today to booing their losing Orioles steadily, but they're still paying to do it.

There were 17,149 of them who bought tickets yesterday to put the Orioles 4,732 over the half-million admission mark in 26 dates.

That's a healthy average of 19,412 and a total higher than the St. Louis Browns and Philadelphia Athletics drew all last season.

But there was a decided change in the fans' tone yesterday. When they moved to Baltimore from St. Louis the players were cheered at every turn regardless of what they did. Balls and strikes were home runs in other big league cities.

Opposing teams, in turn, were booed soundly.

It was different yesterday. Fans started booing Manager Jimmy Dykes when he made his appearance to give the umpires his starting lineup. It went on and grew as the team lost a double-header 7-1 and 7-2 to, of all teams, the neighboring Washington Senators.

Salt Lake City — Garth Panter, 158½, Salt Lake City, outpointed Mickey Rhodes, 153, Boise, 10.

Franki Ryff Whips Brian Kelly, Scortichini Defeats Gonzales

NEW YORK (AP) — Franki Ryff, round, a shiny new face in the lightweight division, is ready to step up in class after his impressive victory over Brian Kelly.

The 22-year-old New York lad, unbeaten in 12 pro fights, won a lopsided fight from Kelly last night at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway.

He had the Niagara Falls, Ont., boxer on the floor in the eighth.

Teddy Brenner, Eastern Parkway matchmaker, hopes to pair Ryff with Orlando Zulueta, the clever, high-ranked Cuban, or Ralph Dupas, the New Orleans schoolboy flash, in an Aug. 9 bout.

He must wait that long because Ryff probably will have to take a six-week layoff as the result of an inch cut over his left eye.

Ryff is handled by Gus D'Amato, the manager of Floyd Patterson, unbeaten Olympic champ. "The kid is ready," said D'Amato. "He did a fine job on Kelly."

Referee Mark Conn and Judge Americo Schiavone each scored it

9-1 and Judge Joe Epy 8-2. A crowd of 1,060 paid $2,430 to see

Italo Scortichini finally grabbed a decision, although a split verdict, over Pedro Gonzales at St. Nicholas Arena and he could hardly believe it.

"You won, you won," Charlie Johnston, his co-manager, told the Italian import before the decision was announced. "And you'll get it

Scortichini thought he was "robbed" when he was held to a draw by Carmen Basilio at Miami Jan. 16. The fans raised the roof at the Garden Field, 12 when he lost a split decision to Joey Giambra.

Scortichini didn't like decisions against him by Carmine Fiore

March 27 or a defeat by Basilio in a Syracuse rematch May 15.

Scortichini suffered a cut at the side of the right eye last night.

He swept the early rounds, brushing past the left jabs of the Rankin, Pa., middleweight to pound at the body with both hands. Although Gonzales solved Italo's style in the late rounds he started too late.

Judge Joe Agnello had it 7-3 and Referee Al Berl 5-4-1, both for Scortichini. Judge Harold Barnes scored it 5-4-1 for Gonzales.

Avila Returns To Lineup For A's Series Tonight

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bob Avila, day the chipped and sprained last of the cripples to return to Cleveland's starting lineup, will round out the roster tonight—if he feels well enough—as the Indians take on Philadelphia in a three-game series.

The injured second baseman, whose .384 batting average leads the American League despite his two-week layoff, reported yesterday.

Al Rosen, who had been out with a sprained right index finger, and

Al Smith, who had suffered a pulled leg muscle, came back to full-time duty Sunday against the Boston Red Sox.

The league-leading Indians stand four games ahead of the Chicago White Sox and five in front of the Yankees.

The New Yorkers play here Friday night, Saturday night and Sunday afternoon, and Lopez has his offense mapped out this way:

"I'm going to let Mike Garcia skip the Philadelphia series and open against the Yanks Friday night. His mother-in-law died Saturday, so he hasn't been working out. He ought to throw a little before his next start.

"Early Wynn will open against the A's Wednesday and the Yanks Sunday. Art Houtteman will probably finish up against the A's."

Cleveland's big three pitching staff probably will face Allie Reynolds, Whitey Ford and Ed Lopat in the Yankee series.

Sidinger's Beats Bloomberg's 12-9

Sidinger's edged Bloomberg's 12-

9 in Class B action Monday at Kelley Field.

The winners scored two runs in each of the last two innings to take the triumph. The winners collected eight hits and took advantage of six Bloomberg errors to win.

Tom Rutzy had a home run and a single, and Don Scattergood

SMU Holds 2-Stroke College Golf Lead

HOUSTON (AP) — Southern Methodist did not figure in pretournament predictions but it held a two-stroke lead in the team title race today as the final round of qualifying play began in the National Collegiate Golf Championships.

While most of the individual favorites were adding strokes to par, the Methodists and 19-year-old Fred (Rick) Jones Jr. of Ohio State took command in yesterday's opening round.

Jones Ohio State's No. 4 player this spring, took individual honors for the first 18 holes with a 4-under par 68. The Methodists meanwhile were making themselves

Record-Shattering 3:58 Mile Turned In By John Landy

Bannister, Landy To Meet In July

1,500-Meter Mark Also Is Lowered

TURKU, Finland (AP)—John Landy, the second man in history to crash the four-minute mile barrier, rested today after his record-shattering 3:58 performance and announced that he probably would do no better—at least for this year.

"I have kept my present top shape for more than nine months," said the 24-year-old Australian. "Now I believe some sort of reaction will set in. I think I have done what I can do for this year."

But he left no doubt that he was looking forward to his duel in the British Empire Games next month with Roger Bannister of England, whose 3:59.4 performance he broke in the blazing sun of Turku Stadium yesterday. Bannister crashed the barrier less than two months ago.

"I'm almost too happy to be able to speak," said Landy, whose breathtaking career has included nine mile races of under 4:03. "If it hadn't been for Chris Chataway chasing me around the track I never would have made it."

"I knew he was immediately behind me and that he would not hesitate to pass me if I slowed up the very least."

Ironically, Chataway, an Englishman, was the runner who pushed Bannister to his 3:59.5 effort.

In the process of breaking the mile record, Landy also lowered the world 1,500-meter mark to 3:41.8. Both records must be recognized by the International Amateur Athletic Federation, but there was no doubt that the recognition would be a mere formality.

In London, Bannister commented:

"It is a wonderful achievement. Landy has tried as hard as anyone to run the mile under four minutes and I am glad he has succeeded."

Landy changed his tactics slightly yesterday. Instead of setting the pace all the way as he usually does, he hung back in second place until just before the half-mile mark and finished in a blaze of speed. He showed no signs of exhaustion as spectators carried him from the stadium on their shoulders.

RUNS RECORD MILE—Australian John Landy holds the new world record for the mile run after covering the distance in three minutes 58 seconds. Landy shaved 1.4 seconds off Roger Bannister's mark, running in the tiny Finnish town of Turku.

Giants Defeat Cards 8-5, Increase Lead

By ED CORRIGAN
AP Sports Writer

While the New York Yankees staggered and floundered five games off the pace, the Cleveland Indians confidently awaited an invasion by the Philadelphia A's to-night.

In fact, the Indians were busier thinking about the weekend series with the Yankees.

This is the year Manager Al Lopez has been waiting for. No one in Cleveland thinks the club will fold in the final stages as it has before. Silenced are the critics who have been howling for Lopez's scalp because he used Bob Lemon, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia as both starters and relievers.

Now, when the stretch run comes, Lopez will have a couple of good relievers to send in. Both Don Mossi and Ray Narleski have filled a big void in the bullpen. The club knows it can win.

As for the Yankees, Manager Casey Stengel is saving his aces, Allie Reynolds, Whitey Ford and Ed Lopat for the Indians.

In the National League, the New York Giants pulled a game ahead of the Brooklyn Dodgers with an 8-5 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in the only major league game scheduled yesterday. Willie Mays hit two home runs, but the Giants still required the services of three pitchers—Jim Hearn, Windy McCall and Marv Grissom.

SHE STILL REIGNS—Maureen Connolly, America's Queen of the tennis world, has won the Women's Singles Championship of the French International Tennis Tournament, at Paris, France, for the second consecutive time by defeating Mme. Ginette Bucaille, of France, 6-4, 6-1. Maureen, who also swept the Wimbledon and U.S. matches last year, hopes to repeat this season.

E. Furnace, V.F.W. Win Monday Tilts

V.F.W. defeated Sekely's 4-1 and Fishers nipped Electric Furnace 10-9 in Little League contests last night at Centennial Park.

Ned Chappell homered for Sekely's in the first inning, the only run the losers picked up. V.F.W. hurler Hunter gave up only three more hits, striking out 13 batters.

The winners collected eight hits off Sekely pitcher, Chappell Moran and Dubbs had two hits each and Sommers had two for Sekely's.

A two-run rally by Electric Furnace in the sixth fell just short of tying the game against Fishers. The losers out-hit Fishers 7-6. J. Dunn had two hits for Fishers and Couchy two for Electric Furnace.

Last Friday, Sekely's defeated Mullins 8-5 and Eljer rode over Electric Furnace 15-1.

Indianapolis Continues Runaway In Association

By The Associated Press

The Indianapolis Indians continue to give the impression that there is no way of stopping their drive for the 1954 American Association pennant.

Last night they called on Bob Kelly, who had lost six straight decisions, and the young Irishman turned in a 7-0 shutout over the Charleston Senators.

In other games, St. Paul beat Toledo 11-7; Columbus snapped a five-game Kansas City winning streak with a 7-3 decision and Louisville went 12 innings for a 3-2 triumph over Minneapolis.

All but one of the Columbus runs were unearned as the Blues committed four errors. The Red Birds broke open the game with a four-run blast in the seventh inning. Jackie Lee drove in three of the runs with a triple.

The Transylvania Saxon Bowling League of America was organized in Salem Sunday under the sponsorship of the Central Verband, in conjunction with the 24th annual convention of Transylvania Saxons in the Saxon Hall.

Rudolph Bodendorfer of Salem was elected president of the league; John Zeides of Alliance, vice president; and John Hallner and Irene Hallner of Cleveland, men and women's secretaries, respectively.

A Youngstown man, John Orben Jr., president of the national committee and first vice president of the Central Verband, presided until the officers were elected.

Attending the organization meeting were Fred J. Theiss, grand president of the Central Verband; Henry Schneider of Cleveland, second vice president; Mr. Hallner, grand secretary; Henry Holmes of Farrell, Pa., and Daniel Weber of Salem, grand trustees.

Fifteen branches of the Central Verband from Ohio, Michigan and Pennsylvania were represented among the 45 men and women at the session.

Zernial Hitting Well After End Of Joost Feud

CLEVELAND (AP)—And so Eddie Joost and Gus Zernial were reconciled and the Philadelphia Athletics lived happily ever after.

The time element in that statement is somewhat exaggerated but the fact remains since Manager Joost reinstated Zernial in the A's lineup following their recent flareup, the A's have won seven of nine games.

Moreover, big Gus has been playing better than ever. He's hit safely five times in 10 trips to the plate. And he was largely responsible for three of the Philadelphia wins. Joost hopes he does as well against the first-place Cleveland Indians tonight.

Some second guessers are saying the Joost-Zernial tiff was one of the best things that could have happened to the sliding, hapless club.

Their row was a publicly-conducted affair 10 days ago. Gus and his manager were seen in the throes of an arm-waving hassle in front of the A's dugout in the early stages of a game with the Detroit Tigers.

Zernial was more than a little put out about being benched previously and the fact he was that night put into the sixth spot in the batting order instead of his customary cleanup position. The dispute ended with Gus being sent to the showers.

The next day Joost—after a conference with Zernial in the office of General Manager Earle Mack, announced Gus had been fined $250.

Mack said he guessed he'd have to go along with his manager. Two days later, a much cooled-off Zernial stated publicly he was ready to take orders.

Sacrifice Fly Aids Player Averages

NEW YORK (AP)—The sacrifice fly, revived after 14 years to hike baseball's batting averages, is doing its job in a big league way.

An Associated Press survey disclosed today that the restored rule generally has increased hitting percentage three points over what they would have been without the regulation.

A total of 314 sacrifice flies have been hit in the majors, lifting the overall average in both circuits from .257 to .260. The National League has accounted for 160 SF's and the American 154.

Three players—Gil Hodges of Brooklyn, Andy Pafko of Milwaukee and Mickey Vernon of Washington—have bet-than-300 averages because of the sacrifice fly.

Others who show a decided profit from sacrifice flies are Al Rosen of the Indians, Red Schoendienst and Ray Jablonski of the Cardinals, Frank House of the Tigers, Minnie Minoso of the White Sox, Granny Hamner of the Phillies, Gus Bell of the Redlegs and Sid Gordon of the Pirates.

When the rule was revived, experts said that long ball hitters would benefit the most from it. Yet Mickey Mantle of the Yankees, Ralph Kiner of the Cubs and Ray Boone of the Tigers have still to hit their first sacrifice fly.

2 Vintage Wines

By HAL BOYLE

PARIS (P)—It was twilight, my favorite hour in Paris, when I came to dear old Le Petit Pled Chaud, my favorite left bank sidewalk cafe, and sat down wearily in my favorite chair.

(This is the chair that has the worn seat marks of Ernest Hemingway reverently outlined with an indelible pencil each morning. The seat marks of Oscar Wilde are preserved on a mauve chair in the cafe around the corner.)

"Will m'sieu have a bit of his favorite wine?" inquired Macques, my favorite old sommelier (we call him "Mac"), who paints postcards for tourists in his off hours. Clean postcards, too—not a speck of dust on them.

I hesitated. In America what one drinks often determines how one feels. But to us sons and daughters of the left bank it is the other way around. How we feel determines what we drink. It is the difference between savagery and civilization.

"At the moment, Macques, I don't know which is my favorite wine," I confessed. "My mood is mixed."

"Perhaps m'sieu desires the crimson excitement of Burgundy, or the nutbrown wonder of Anjou," suggested Macques. "Does the burled sunshine of Bordeaux call to m'sieu, or the crunchiness of Alsace? No? Perhaps, then, the clanger of Cotes du Rhone?"

"Ah, no, Macques, I do not wish to be difficult, but their sounds pall upon my palate."

"I understand. Is it possible that m'sieu demands the pale cold consolation of a jeroboam of champagne?"

"It makes me hiccup," I said coldly. "Besides, you know champagne is only for brides, tourists and... and breakfast."

"Oui, m'sieu."

"No, Macques, I am weary of all known pleasures. A million taxi horns re-cound in my ears, and I have barely escaped death this day from 10,000 maddened bicyclists. I feel insecure. Have you no wines that will wipe away the present, bring back my youth and summon up sweet remembrances of things past?"

"Ah yes, but two brands in all our cellar," said Macques. "They are very rare. But I do not like to see you troubled, and since you are a true connoisseur I will bring you them."

"Vintage?" I asked, suspiciously.

"But yes," said Macques of fended. "Their bouquet is so delicate it is measured by the month as well as the year. If m'sieu will permit, I would suggest May, 1951 for the one and, yes, November, 1953 for the other."

"Well, bring me a glass of each," I said. "I might as well be broke as feel the way I do."

When he put the glasses before me, the rising aroma swept the air with softeners. I sipped from one glass, and remembered the day I ran crying to my mother and she put a bandage on my knee. I tasted the other glass. The vision of my curly-haired kindergarten sweetheart swam before me. Well, kid, even if she did have to marry her way out of grammar school.

With each sip the barnacles of time fell away from me, and when old Macques came to pick up the empty glasses I felt as warm and happy and young as a grasshopper in a hayfield.

"They are marvelous," I told him. "Do you enjoy these wines yourself?"

"When the boss—that pig—looks the other way. I sometimes manage to sneak myself a mouthful," whispered Macques. "It does wonders for my arthritis."

"How about selling me a couple of bottles to take back to America?"

"Impossible! It is a sacrilege even to suggest such a thing. If Americans knew there were such wines, they would come here in such numbers as to crowd all France."

"At least let me have the corks as souvenirs," I begged. Macques agreed to—for a fee.

"Do not show them here where the other patrons can see them," he said when he returned. He slipped two small objects in my hand. I got up, strolled casually around the corner, and there, under a lamplight, studied the two tin caps in my fingers.

One said "Coca-Cola." The other said "Pepsi Cola."

Inside Labor

The tomato you stuffed with that diced chicken may be a surprise after all.

The chicken may have been one of the millions unfit for human consumption that are now being sold daily to housewives across the land.

Were Upton Sinclair to come out of Arizona for the chicken dressing and chicken-parts packing plants, he would discover much of the industry is as vile, as filthy and as diseased as he found the 1906 meatpacking industry. I've tried to pinch hit for Upton Sinclair, but nobody turns out another "Jungle" expose which frightened and angered the nation into passing the laws which have turned our meatpacking plants into the world's most scientifically clean food establishments.

Victor Riesel

SOMEHOW, HOWEVER, the poultry industry was by-passed, and it is in some areas so many a field that Upton Sinclair will forgive me for trying to do something in the image of his old crusade.

There are affidavits in the hands of the AFL Amalgamated Meatcutters and Butcher Workmen's Union charging that segments of the poultry industry are heavily diseased.

This union's headquarters, on the Chicago lakefront, has affidavits from workers which should bring scores of inspectors on the run. But none have come. Day by day, the industry continues to put unhealthy chickens on the nation's luncheon and dinner tables.

The union, led by Pat Gorman, has tried to make some impact on the unsavory section of this industry, but has been ignored because there are no Federal inspection laws—and very few state laws—for poultry.

tion of signing with the union. It is a question of being willing to junk inedible foods at a cost to the plant operator rather than chance sickening children and adults, too.

The meat packing industry cleaned itself up 40 years ago. How about a little noise to keep our family tables more than half safe?

Lisbon Firemen Clean Camp McKinley Pool

Gambling Equipment Seized After Slaying
PHENIX CITY, Ala. — Heavily armed civilian and military raiding parties seized more than $20,000 in gambling equipment here last night in a crackdown on vice.

Twenty-two slot machines and an equal number of pinball gaming tables were confiscated in three swift raids on a honky-tonk and a warehouse in the city and another night spot outside of town.

Seizure of the slot machines climaxed a day of feverish activity in Phenix City, highlighted also by funeral services for slain anti-vice leader A. L. Patterson and the development of new possible leads that officers hoped might lead them to the gunman who killed the Phenix City lawyer.

In Birmingham, a grand jury which is investigating vote fraud charges in connection with Patterson's recent nomination as attorney general was told by a judge the accusations of ballot manipulation there are linked with the Phenix City killing.
